

TAG QUESTIONS

PRONUNCIATION

1. Listen and say the following sentences.

a. Fossils can tell us a great deal about ancient humans, can't they? b. The earliest human remains are around 300,000 years old, aren't they? c. Humans have evolved slowly since then, haven't they? d. The Homo sapiens skull differ from earlier human species, doesn't it? e. The Stone Age began more than 2 million years ago, didn't it? f. Ancient humans lived in caves and hunted their food, didn't they?
---	--

PRACTICE

2. Complete the sentences with the proper tag question of the underlined clauses.

- a. One advantage of weapons in the human history is that they helped ancient humans to provide food and evolve, _____?
- b. One advantage of weapons in the human history is that they helped ancient humans to provide food and evolve, _____?
- c. It seems pretty obvious that weapons don't help humans at all positively, _____?
- d. They say the Homo sapiens may have killed the other human species, _____?
- e. I'm almost certain that the earliest human remains are more than 2 million years old, _____?