WRITING TRAITS

Ideas:

Develop ideas about food poisoning as if preparing for an essay. Write one sentence for the following:

Sentence hook:

Topic sentence:

Supporting details:

Conclusion sentence:

Organization:

You roll out of bed at 7:00am. It's time to prepare for school. Write five things in a order that makes most sense, of what you would do before finally arriving to school. Use the transitions as your guide.

Firstly:

Secondly:
Thirdly:

After that:

Finally:

Voice:

What is the voice of the passage below?

Silly me! I am the only kid in the class without a single thing to munch on. What's worse is the gas pains won't stop wrestling in my tummy. I should have purchased a snack while I had a chance.

Word Choice:

Write two sentences to describe a time when you were afraid. Use one hyperbole and onomatopoeia in your description. Be sure to use "exciting" word choice.

Sentence Fluency:

Rewrite the passage. To help the passage to flow better, use transitions, combine sentences and eliminate repeated words.

My grades improved. I studied every night. I didn't watch television. I didn't post TikTok videos. I didn't talk on my phone or text. I was elated when I got my report card.

Conventions:

Use conventions to find the six errors in this sentence. Rewrite the sentence once edited.
