

Present Perfect vs. Past Simple

Read the following texts.

In 1930 Roger Appeldorn (1) invented the overhead projector. By the late 1950s, overhead projectors (2) made it into schools, where they (3) have gone into serious decline since the arrival of the computer.

László Biro (4) invented the modern ballpoint pen in 1938. Since then the pen (5) has changed the way people write.

Jerry Merryman (6) developed the first pocket-sized electronic calculator to use an LED display in 1971. Microsoft Windows (7) has upgraded the calculator several times over the last decades.

1. Identify the tenses in bold. Which verb forms describe the following actions? Write the numbers.

→ an action that happened at a definite time in the past? _____

→ an action that happened at an unstated time in the past? _____

2. Read the information about the different uses of the Present Perfect and the Past Simple. Then match each use to its example. Draw the →

We use the Past Simple for finished actions that happened at a definite time in the past.

The English teacher has just shared a QR Code with her class.

The Present Perfect describes an action that happened in the past, but that is related to something in the present/that produces a visible result or effect in the present.

I have accomplished assignments through Google Classroom since 2020.

The Present Perfect describes an action that started in the past and continues up to the present.

Have you done your homework? Yes, I have. Now I understand the short story.

We use the Present Perfect to talk about life experiences.

We switched to remote learning in march 2020.

We use the Present Perfect to refer to recent events or states.

I have never worked with Padlet.

3. Now enjoy this video and revise the rules.

<https://youtu.be/XgLdOI6UsJY>