

Exercise 3

Read the information. Then read the adjectives in the box. The adjectives can all be used by writers to give their opinions or to evaluate what other writers have said. Choose the correct adjectives for each category. The first one has been done for you.

IELTS Reading texts often contain a writer's opinions – as well as their evaluations of what other writers have said.

|            |           |              |            |          |        |
|------------|-----------|--------------|------------|----------|--------|
| Undeniable | ambiguous | misguided    | valid      | unsure   | flawed |
|            |           | evident      |            |          |        |
| Vague      | genuine   | inaccurate   | legitimate | distinct |        |
|            |           | unmistakable | mistaken   |          |        |
|            |           | uncertain    |            |          |        |

| obvious | unclear |
|---------|---------|
| clear   |         |
|         |         |
|         |         |
|         |         |

| true | untrue |
|------|--------|
|      |        |
|      |        |
|      |        |
|      |        |