Activity 3

Ahmed is learning about how users interact with a range of computing devices.
Identify one example of a computing device and explain how users interact with it.
Write your answer below.

Computing device

........................................................................................................................

Interaction

........................................................................................................................

........................................................................................................................

........................................................................................................................

........................................................................................................................

........................................................................................................................

........................................................................................................................

........................................................................................................................

........................................................................................................................