

Exercise 1

Read the IELTS Writing Task 1 question. Then read the sentences. Choose the correct responses.

The pie chart below shows the readership of print newspapers by five different age groups in a European country.

Summarise the information by selecting and reporting the main features, and make comparisons where relevant.

1. What does this pie chart show?
 - ☐ different newspapers read by age group
 - ☐ how many people read newspapers in hundreds
 - ☐ newspaper readership by age group

2. Which age group is not represented?
 - Children
 - the older generation
 - working-age people
3. What is most noticeable about the data?
 - Many people don't have time to read newspapers.
 - Older people read the press more than other age groups.
 - Young people don't read newspapers at all.
4. What mustn't a candidate do in their introduction?
 - copy the question word for word
 - paraphrase the question
 - write a few lines in their own words
5. Which of the following would make the best summary statement?
 - Overall, the general tendency shown by the graph is that the older you are, the more likely you are to read a traditional newspaper.
 - To summarise, old people generally really love to read newspapers.
 - We can see that younger people are not interested in the news.