My future as a professional DOTA player!

Hi! I'm Frufrito, and I'm so excited to announce that I'm going to compete in a professional DOTA tournament next month! I'm part of the Beastcoast team. However, I have to finish homework this week, so I'm going to train next week. The organizers are going to travel to Lima next week. The tournament is going to take place in San Miguel! My teammates are going to finish school next week, and we is going to prepare for the event day. It's going to be very exciting! DOTA is very famous strategy game. A lot of players around the world compete professionally for the main prize, which is millions of dollars! Whether we win or not, I'm going to travel to Sweden next year to meet a professional team and train with them.
