

Complete the gaps with correct grammar forms of the words on the right:

"Hey, sky! Take off your hat!"

There was nothing about Valentina's life indicating that her future _____ great. Her father worked as a tractor driver and her mother BE _____ in textile industry. When she was two years old, her father WORK _____ in the war. She would probably follow her mother's KILL footsteps in textile industry, but Valentina was fond of _____. PARACHUTE

At that time the space race between America and Russia was intense. Russia sent its _____ man into space, Yuri Gagarin. A month ONE later, America sent Alan Shepard into space. Valentina, a thrill seeker girl, _____ the risk and enrolled to be an astronaut. By that time she TAKE _____ an experienced skydiver. The number of jumps she BECOME _____ exceeded the results of all enrolled _____. She DO, WOMAN defeated several hundred _____ to pilot a single Vostok 6 CANDIDATE capsule on a space trip, and she was not more than 25 years old. Training next to other men who were _____ and _____ than her was OLD, STRONG difficult. She _____ her coaches to teach her as hard as her male BEG colleagues.

On the 16th June 1963 The Vostok capsule _____ into LAUNCH the atmosphere, led by Valentina as the first woman to travel to space. Her ship orbited the Earth 48 times in less than 3 days. And this is more than any American astronauts were able to achieve before her altogether. While on her trip, she noticed that her team _____ to bring a toothbrush. FORGET

But the missing toothbrush was her _____ concern. While she was in _____ Earth's orbit she discovered that the capsule _____ mistakenly _____ designed not to return to Earth. But she _____ and calmly spoke to _____ the ground control centre, and the process of returning _____ to Earth _____ was successful.

Despite Valentina's success, it took another 19 years for another woman to get into space. Valentina is not only the _____ youngest _____ person to travel to space, but also the _____ woman to do it. "Work _____ hard and you _____ for the stars", Valentina Tereshkova said. "Break _____ down _____ barriers that keep you from Moving forward."