

Exercise 2

Read the information. Then complete the table with the task types in the box.

When you do an IELTS Reading task, it is important that you know whether the questions are in the same order as the relevant information in the text.

The questions are always in order except when they are asking you to find which part of the text the information is in.

multiple-choice questions matching paragraph headings Yes / No / Not Given True / False / Not Given matching sentence endings writing short answers
all gap-fill tasks (note, table and flow-chart completion)
'Which paragraph contains the information?' tasks
matching features (e.g. names) and information

questions NOT in the same order as the text

questions in the same order as the text
