2 EXAM TASK Read the following text. Three sentences have been removed from the text. Choose from the sentences (A-E) the one which fits each gap (1-3) to obtain a logical and coherent text. There are two extra sentences that you do not need to use.

'Ouch!' Caroline scratched the back of her thigh as we were walking along a forest path. 'What's the matter?' I asked. 'It's OK. I guess a bug has just bitten me', she said, and kept walking. But a few moments later, she stopped. 'I can't breathe', she whispered. (1) ___ I looked at her leg, which was awfully swollen now. Something was terribly wrong with her. I tried to think quickly. I'd left my mobile in the car as the battery was flat, anyway. Taking Caroline back to the car was out of the question. (2) ___ Then I heard the sound of a car passing nearby. 'There's a road near here!' I thought. Caroline was really unwell. I had to put her arm around my neck and we started walking very slowly. When we reached the road, I carefully put her on the ground, with her back against a road barrier. A moment later I saw a car coming towards us. I ran into the middle of the road, waving my hands desperately at the approaching car. (3) ___ I pointed at Caroline, sitting at the side of the road. 'Please, get us to the hospital!' I shouted.

- A It stopped and the driver got out.
 B My first thought was to walk back to the car.
 C She could hardly stand on her feet and looked very pale.
 D There was no time to explain.
 E We were already a few kilometres away from it.

10 EXAM TASK

You were going to visit your friend in London this weekend. Unfortunately, you fell ill and must cancel your trip. Write an email to your friend in which you:

- explain why you cancel your trip,
- describe how you feel and what you do to recover,
- tell how you spend time during your illness.

Write at least 100 words.

Hello Christie,

I'm really sorry but I won't be coming to see you next weekend.

I'd like to visit you in a few weeks when I get better.

Let me know if that's possible.

All the best,

XYZ
