

SAINT DAVID'S DAY

Wales: where the world meets

Watch this video and fill in the blanks with the words below:

country or future or nations or past or science or sky or UK
Welsh or world

Wales. Where land meets the _____ and the shore meets the ocean. Where world class meets business class. Where business meets pleasure. Where great minds meet and where great _____ meet to do battle.

Where all paths meet and where town meets _____. Where the _____ meets the present and the present meets the _____. Where man meets machine and nature. Where the unique meets the everyday. Where culture and art meet _____ and technology. Where service and care meet with the highest standards. Where the _____ spirit is waiting to greet you.

Wales has more to offer the business delegate than most other countries across the _____ and Europe. With centres of excellence ready to cater for any size group and leisure facilities of every description, you can enjoy the very best accommodation in some of the most inspiring settings in the _____.

So if you're planning a conference, meeting, convention or incentive programme, Wales is the place where great things come together. Where the world meets.

