Forming the Subjunctive Mood

In the present subjunctive mood is used to express a wish, suggestion or command that is contrary to the fact. The base form of the verb is used regardless of the subject. This holds true even with the verb to be. It only occurs in noun clauses beginning with the word 'that'. To make a subjunctive clause negative, add 'not' before the subjunctive verb.

1. Sheryl suggested that we all _____ coffee.
2. My boss insisted that I _____late for work anymore.
