Andi, we need to find a place for our meeting Wednesday. If the conference room (....1....) available, we could have it there. Unfortunately Dani reserved it for a small workshop.
Dina Safira's office is very big. If I (...2...) friendlier with her, I would ask to use it. You know her, don't you? Why don't you ask her? If I (...3...) I would offer her a free lunch or something for doing it.

Thanks,

Nova

The following text is for questions 21 – 25

A boy stole a lesson-book from one of his schoolfellows and took it home to his mother. She not only abstained from beating him, but encouraged him. He, next time, stole a cloak and brought it to her, and she again commended him. The youth, advanced to adulthood, proceeded to steal things of still greater value.

At last he was caught in the very act, and having his hands bound behind him, was led away to the place of public execution. His mother followed in the crowed and violently beat her breast in sorrow, next the young man said, "I wish to say something to my mother in her ear." She came close to him, and he quickly seized her ear with his teeth and bit it off. The mother cursed him as an unnatural child, and he replied, "Ah! If you had beaten me when I first stole and brought to you that lesson-book, I should not have come to this, nor have been thus led to a disgraceful death."
