

Прочитайте приведенный ниже текст и вставьте вместо каждого пропуска А-Е нужную грамматическую форму выбрав ее из списка.

The Fly and the Cow

A little fly flew across a field one day. Soon he A _____ very tired and decided that he wanted to rest for B _____ time. So, he flew over to a cow that C _____ grass in the field and sat down on one of her ears.

Soon he felt D _____ and was ready to continue his trip. So, he got ready to fly off. But first, before he left he said to the cow: "I'm very sorry that I used E _____ ear as a place to rest. You must be very happy to see me go."

"It's fine," the cow answered, "I did not even know that you were there."

- A
1. has become
 2. becomes
 3. became
 4. become

- B
1. any
 2. some
 3. much
 4. little

- C
1. ate
 2. eat
 3. was eating
 4. has eaten

- D
1. best
 2. more better
 3. much better'
 4. the best

- E
1. you're
 2. you
 3. your
 4. yours

Word List

Прочитайте текст и заполните пропуски А-Е подходящими словами из списка 1-7. Два слова в этом списке лишние.

Three Stations Square

Komsomolskaya Square is a very busy square located not far from the centre of Moscow. People A _____ call it "Three Stations Square", because three railway stations are located B _____ to it: Leningradsky, Yaroslavsky and Kazansky. All three railway stations have beautiful buildings that are C _____ works of art. Leningradsky railway station is the oldest one not D _____ of the three, but of all nine that exist in Moscow. It was built in 1851. The building of Yaroslavsky station reminds one of Russian fairy tales. It was built by the famous architect Fyodor Shechtel in 1904. It is possible to go by train all the E _____ to Vladivostok from this station. The building of Kazansky station is the youngest of the three. Its construction was finished in 1940.

1. right
2. true
3. near
4. usually
5. next
6. way
7. only

Word List