★ INDIRECT QUESTIONS ★

When we ask for some information we sometimes begin the question with another question:

Example: Do you know where Tom is? Could you tell me where Tom is?

The order of the question changes. See this example:

SIMPLE QUESTION:

Where is Tom?

Why is she crying?

INDIRECT QUESTION: Do you know where Tom is?

Tell me why she is crying.

IF/WETHER when there's no question word

Did she tell him?

Do you know if/whether she told him?-

Where do you live? He asked me where I lived

BE CAREFUL with do/does/did questions

Where does she live?

Do you know where she lives?

(Don't use does and put the 3rd person S)
