

 A a) _____ is a person who cures people when they are sick. There are many kinds of doctors, depending on the field in which they are specialized, for example: b)  _____ cure sick animals; c)  _____ take care of our teeth; d)  _____ help people when they have eye problems; e)  _____ help people who have skin problems, etcetera. Some doctors work in public hospitals while others work in private clinics. Doctors examine a patient to see if anything is wrong; if the patient has a health problem, the doctor prescribes medicine to help the patient to feel better.
