Once upon a time there was a boy called Mr. Scary who had a lot of energy. He played, jumped, ran and had fun all the time. One summer his parents decided to send him on a camp, where he told the other boys some spooky stories about ghosts, on wheels and houses at night. Mr.Scary first thought it wasbut when he wanted to sleep, he was by black hands with long fingers, a wearing glasses and some legs with big The boy ran away from his room and saw a coffin on wheels him. He was scared to He was so..... that he started running and screaming. Luckily, it turned out it was the camp supervisor woken up by some noises. He was filled with and he shouted at Mr.Scary. The supervisor told the boy that the other children couldn't sleep that night because of the fear. He also explained that Mr. Scary's 'joke' was and he would have talk to his parents. Now the boy was not of any ghosts, but his parents. :-)
