

Tag questions: can be used to confirm information that we think is true or as an ice-breaker, to make small talk or keep a conversation going.

When the statement is affirmative, use a negative tag.

I am a great student, aren't I? (exception)

Harry was at the party, _____?

She has a lot of pets, _____?

Sarah went to the beach, _____?

It has been hot, _____?

Alice can speak Italian, _____?

There will be an exam on Friday, _____?

I should do my homework, _____?

When the statement is negative, use an affirmative tag.

I am not late, am I?

They weren't home last night, _____?

Mark doesn't have a car, _____?

She didn't like that movie, _____?

We haven't taken a test yet, _____?

They can't understand that sign, _____?

He won't work next month, _____?

I shouldn't translate everything, _____?