

A newspaper article

*If you don't understand the words in the word check, please look them up in the dictionary first before you read the article.

Have you ever found an old toy or object on a beach? Have you ever wondered where it came from?

—Have you ever... ? significa: “¿Alguna vez has...? Y siempre se escribe en present perfect.

¿Alguna vez has encontrado un viejo juguete u objeto en una playa?

(— Con esa pregunta comienza el artículo que vamos a leer)

○ Read and listen to the article on page 87 and answer the questions

1. What is the article about?

_____.

2. Read the text again. Are the sentence is true (T) or false (F)? Copy the sentences with the information.

a. The ducks went into the sea by accident. _____

-Sentence in the text: _____

b. The ducks have helped scientist discover new information about the oceans _____

-Sentence in the text: _____

c. There are no more of the plastic ducks left in the sea _____

-Sentence in the text: _____

d. Donovan Hohn's book is called Moby Dick _____

-Sentence in the text: _____

e. Mobs-Duck is only about yellow plastic ducks _____

-Sentence in the text: _____

3. Answer the questions according to the text

a. Where were the ducks before they were in the sea? _____

b. How did the ducks arrive in Alaska? _____

- c. Why did Donovan Hohn call his book Molby-duck? _____
- d. What problem does Moby duck talk about? _____
- e. What kind of sea pollution does the text mention? _____

4. Copy all the verbs you find in the text in the present perfect and translate them into Spanish

Example: -They have appeared: ellos han aparecido

- _____: _____

- _____: _____

- _____: _____

- _____: _____

- _____: _____

- _____: _____

- _____: _____

