

Relative Clauses

Join the two sentences using relative pronouns
(who, which, where or whose)

Example: A nurse is a person. She looks after ill people.
A nurse is a person who looks after ill people.

1. He is a scientist. He invented a robot.

He is the scientist _____

2. This is a robot. It cleans the floor.

This is the robot _____

3. A pen drive is a gadget. It can store a lot of photos.

A pen drive is a gadget _____

4. I like the town. I was born there.

I like the town _____

5. He is a teacher. He teaches physics.

He is a teacher _____

6. This is the lady. Her car was stolen.

This is the lady _____

7. This is the painting. Picasso painted it.

This is the painting _____

8. Some people stay at home. They won't get infected with the virus.

The people _____ won't get infected by the virus.

9. The Tower of London is a castle. It was a palace, a zoo and a prison in the past.

The Tower of London is a castle _____

10. The double-decker is a bus. It has seats upstairs and downstairs.

The double-decker is a bus _____

11. Last year I was at the sea. I learnt to swim there.

Last year I was at the sea, _____

12. Harry is a man. His son plays for Manchester United.

Harry is the man _____

