

The organisation of animals

Complete the text about the organisation of animals.

nutrition

function

systems

Cells

tissue

nutrients

system

The cells are different shapes according to their function. join together to form tissue. Each type of tissue has a specific .

Organs are made up of different . They work together to form and perform a function.

For example, our body has a circulatory that is made up of the heart, blood, blood vessels and lymph. It helps us carry out as it transports oxygen and to and from cells.

