➤ Before you read! What happens with this application? What is it for?

1. Listen and read the following text and answer the questions:

Videos are medium to record, copy, broadcast, and display visual and audio information. Today, digital videos are very popular because you can make a recording anytime and anywhere with your cell phone, and share it with your friends.

People make and post videos of funny and interesting situations. Youtube is a famous internet website that displays millions of videos on any topic. For example, there are videos that explain how to play the guitar, how to repair a car, or simply show curious and daily routines such as the way a cat plays with a dog.

In this unit, you will record, and narrate at the same time, a video that shows what people in your neighborhood do on weekends.
