

Prepositions

Complete the sentences with the correct preposition.

1. Officials believe that more than one person may be to blame the fire.
2. Muriel took pride their appearance and tried to forget Stephen's late night and Lily's missing days.
3. I've never felt able to confide my sister.
4. Dillard is very critical the plan to reorganize the company.
5. They come to the university with limited experience in applying knowledge, puzzling solutions, solving problems.
6. Their relationship was based mutual respect.
7. Moira pleaded him to stay.
8. He admitted stealing the watch.
9. That he is not English is no consequence to us.
10. The company had huge debts and was the brink of collapse.
11. Miss Collins is charge of the children's games and activities.
12. The mountain is estimated to be 2,000 ft high.
13. the long run, I think you've made the best decision.
14. Gerry works a teacher at the local secondary school.
15. I have no intention going back to that shop.

