

PLAYING THE PIANO: FROM BAD TO GOOD

I've played the piano since I was five. I had no interest in learning a (0) musical MUSIC instrument – it was my mum who decided it was a good idea.

I went to lessons every week. My friends thought it was really (1) USUAL and I hated it. I wanted to be outside riding my bike like them. Then, my mum started entering me for (2) I think she had an idea that I might one day become a (3) COMPETE FAME musician! Everyone else seemed to be (4) to be taking part but I never won anything. I was completely (5) and it was awful. EXCITE HOPE

Now I'm an adult, I'm glad my mum made me practise for hours because I feel more (6) playing in front of people. I actually find playing for my friends great fun and I really like to be (7) when I play. But if I ever have (8) , I'll let them do whatever they want! COMFORT CREATE CHILD
