

READ AND ANSWER

This is Nino. He is a waiter. He works in a restaurant in New York. He usually works 5 days a week. He sometimes works on Saturdays and Sundays, but he doesn't like it. When he works at the weekend, he doesn't work on Monday and Tuesday.

Every day, he goes to the restaurant at half past ten in the morning and he starts working at quarter to eleven. He usually walks to the restaurant, but he sometimes cycles. After he washes his hands, he lays the table, he puts knives, forks and glasses on the tables. He also puts flowers on the tables.

Lots of people come to the restaurant – men, women, children and babies. He works very hard. He carries food from the kitchen to the tables. At night, when people go home, he always washes the dishes and plates.

He never goes home before one in the morning! When he gets home, he is always very tired and his feet hurt!

1. Where does Nino work?
2. How often does he work at weekends?
3. What time does he go to the restaurant?
4. Who does he give food to?
5. When does he lay the tables?
6. Does he go home early?

