Unit 3 (Revolution of the 50%) Grammar:
Adjective Clauses - Identifying and Non-Identifying

Directions: Read each sentence. Decide if the underlined text is:

an identifying adjective clause (I), a non-identifying adjective clause (NI), or a quantifying expression (Q)

Example: The headphones that are not working are now in the director's office. I

1. Pizza, which most people love, is not very healthy, particularly deep-dish pizza. _____

2. I know the man whose bicycle was stolen because he is a family friend and he would often ride his bicycle in our neighborhood. _____

3. The city where we would often spend our vacations is beautiful. _____

4. Someone's introversion can affect many aspects of their life; their work, their friendships and even their love life, all of which are important to their happiness. _____

5. I do not like people who are mean to animals. _____

6. Adam Smith, who is a professor at the University of Maryland, is a marathon runner. _____

7. Negative characteristics, many of which are not true, are often applied to both introverts and shy people. _____

8. Fruit that is grown organically is often healthier, but it is usually more expensive. ____

9. The study, which was published in many academic journals, discussed the relationship between autism and vaccines and concluded there is no connection between them. _____

10. Animals native to India, many of which are endangered, need to be protected or they will go the way of the dinosaurs. _____

11. The people who waited all night outside of the Apple Store are very interested in purchasing the latest iPhone. _____

12. A troublemaker is a person who causes difficulties, distress or worry for other people. _____