An amazing journey

It was July and Rob and Ellie were very excited. They finished their exams and they were about to go on the holiday of a lifetime. They decided not to spend their holiday relaxing on a beach or lying by a pool. This year they wanted a real adventure, so they planned to spend two weeks travelling in Morocco. The highlight of the trip was going to be a two-day camel ride in the Sahara Desert. The friends began their trip in Ouarzazate, a beautiful city at the edge of the Sahara Desert.

First, the friends visited the city's famous market to buy some traditional hats to protect them from the hot sun. Then, it was time to meet the two local guides and the six large camels, who took them to the desert. At first, the friends felt terrified riding the camels. They were so tall and they were sure they were going to fall. But, as they continued their journey, it was easier to ride the camels so they relaxed and enjoyed the amazing desert landscape.

After they rode for several hours, the sun started to set. The clouds turned bright orange and red and it looked like the sky was on fire. The guides stopped and began to put up their tents while Ellie and Rob stood looking at the sky. For dinner later that evening, the guides prepared a traditional Moroccan food. As Ellie and Rob were having this delicious meal, they watched the dark sky with stars. Rob, on the other hand, felt a little afraid. The desert was so quiet. The next day, they set off on their camels again. The heat of the desert made the journey exhausting. In the afternoon, they finally arrived in the small town Olf Azzarine. Both Rob and Ellie were extremely happy to get off their camels and go to their hotel for a cool shower. As they said goodbye to their guides, Ellie thought that the desert experience was exciting, but she was happy to be at the hotel. It was a real adventure!
