The show is about how Buddy and other bakers make their amazing cakes. The programme also shows the relationships between his family members and other employees who work at the shop.

Buddy was born in Hoboken, New Jersey, in 1977. His parents left Italy when they were very young. They immediately opened a bakery in the USA. When Buddy was only 5 years old, he knew what he wanted to do: become a chef and help his dad with his family business.

After some days, Buddy got a phone call, "Hi Buddy! Remember me?" a strange voice said. "I'm Tom! You made a cake for my wife the other day. Would you like to appear on TV? I'm a producer and I think you are very talented! People at home should watch what you do!" The two men soon met and they created Buddy's most famous reality show, "Cake Boss".

This experience was not enough for him. He wanted to be a star. One day, while Buddy was closing his bakery shop, a man arrived and asked Buddy to make a cake for him. His name was Tom and he was really worried. It was his wife's birthday and he didn't have a cake for her. Buddy immediately opened the bakery shop again and made the cake for the stranger.

In 2007, Buddy participated in "Food Network Challenge". In each episode, professional chefs had to cook their specialty in only an hour. This TV series finished in 2009 after the presenters announced that Buddy had made the best strawberry cake. Buddy won $10,000 and a gold medal.
