

How the Brain Works – Vocabulary Level 2

1. Marie Curie was a female . She and her husband discovered radium. They worked in a where they did scientific . She was a professor at the University of Paris.
2. Marie Curie died as a of her exposure to radium. She was the only woman to the Nobel Prize twice.
3. Sometimes people compare the to a computer. You see something the information is 'translated' by this part of the body.
4. It is quite to jump out of airplanes. My friend did that in the army. She said she was so that she almost cried.
5. Many researchers are involved in a on how people learn languages. It's interesting to see what the results will be.
6. It's hard for people to their emotions; especially when they are angry.