- Dr House: It was?
- Lady: It is not _____.
- Dr House: Oh! That's a shame.
- Lady: I thought that might be a _____ so I've brought you this.
- Dr. House: Your _____ was pale golden rod
- Lady: Yes, should I be worried?
- Dr House: Oh yes! Very!
- Lady: Really? I thought it was ok now.
- Dr House: And yet, here you are. What happened? _____ took a week to respond to your 911 call?
- Lady: You are not a very nice _____. Are you?
- Dr House: And you are very bad at whatever is you do.
- Lady: You don't even know me!
- Dr House: I know you are going to get fired. That's why you've got new _____, that's why your _____ are sparkly white. You are getting the most of your _____ insurance while you still can.
- Lady: I might be quitting.
- Dr House: If you were quitting, you would have known last week when your snot was pale golden rod. You are getting fired.
- Lady: I just don't like being told what to do.
- Dr House: I'll get you a _____ _____ _____ later this week.
- Lady: Thanks

Situation two:

- Man: What are you doing?
- Dr House: Level three/four
- Man: I know, I mean...
- Dr House: I know what you meant.... We are waiting/working.
- Man: My throat/head hurts.
- Dr House: So you said.
- Man: How long are we waiting?
- Dr House: Two minutes less than when you asked me two minutes ago.
- Dr Cuddy: Hi!
- Man: Hi!
- Dr Cuddy: I'm Dr Cuddy. Nice to meet/see you.
- Dr House: Dr Cuddy, thanks for the meeting/consult. His throat seems to have some condition/problem.
- Dr Cuddy: Say AHHH... He has a toothache/sore throat.
- Dr House: Of course! Yes, Why didn't I...? he said that....
