

Now that you have learned about language functions, try this practice task. Look at these statements. What are their language functions? Click on the best answer to complete each statement.

1. Speaker: I don't want to go to the park today.

The language function this speaker uses is [refusing] / [making an invitation] .

2. Speaker: I'm too busy and too tired all the time.

The language function this speaker uses is [complaining] / [giving a compliment]

3. Speaker: Paris has so many beautiful buildings.

The language function this speaker uses is [giving advice] / [describing]

4. Speaker: We're going to get lunch. Do you want to come with us?

The language function this speaker uses is [asking for permission] / [making an invitation]

5. Speaker: Your new bag is really beautiful.

The language function this speaker uses is [giving a compliment] / [refusing]

6. Speaker: Can you print this document for me?

The language function this speaker uses is [complaining] / [making a request]

7. Speaker: You should really try to rest for a few days.

The language function this speaker uses is [giving advice] / [describing]

8. Speaker: Can I park here?

The language function this speaker uses is [asking for permission] / [making an invitation]