LISTEN AND READ

Listen to and read two texts with recommendations to improve our mental health:

TEXT A

Tools to improve our mental health¹

The organization Mental Health America (MHA) recommends using these tools to improve our mental health:

1. Stay positive: We should always focus on the positive side of the situation.
2. Get physically active: Everyone should exercise often. 30 minutes of aerobic exercise three days a week is enough to positively impact our mental health.
3. Help others: When we feel sad or anxious, we hardly ever think about helping someone else, but helping others makes us feel good.
4. Get enough sleep: Teenagers should sleep between 8 and 10 hours a day to stay healthy. Adults should sleep 7-9 hours.
5. Eat well: We should regularly eat vegetables, fruits, proteins and whole grains. Eating dessert occasionally is okay.

Finally, keep your spirits up! It is important to think that things will get better. We should always focus on that.

TEXT B

How can we protect our mental health?²

Dr. Lisa Damour is a psychologist who specializes in adolescent mental health. These are some of her mental health recommendations for teenagers:

1. We should understand that our anxiety is completely normal. It is okay to feel anxious sometimes.
2. We should create distractions: To find balance in our day-to-day, we should read books, watch movies or listen to music regularly. It is not healthy to always worry.
3. We should find ways to connect with friends: Teenagers can find creative ways to talk to their friends regularly without putting their health in danger.
4. You should focus on you: This is a great time to learn something new. For example, you can learn to play an instrument. It is never too late to learn new things.
5. You should always be kind to yourself and others: Let's stop cyberbullying. It's important to be nice to our classmates and teachers especially in times like these.

Take care of your mental health and remember that you are not alone. Your friends and family are always there to help you.
