Tuning in to MY INSTINCTS

WHAT IS AN INSTINCT?

All creatures are born with an instinct to live and grow strong.

Instinct is linked to different sensations in our body, it tells us what we need.

Tuning into our natural instincts can help keep our body and mind healthy.

When I feel hungry...

Most instincts are driven by the need to survive, either in response to something that is happening around us, or internal signals from within our body.

If we learn to trust our own feelings about our bodies, it can help us tune into our instincts and keep our body healthy and balanced.

When I feel thirsty...

When I feel tired...

USE THIS MANTRA:

My Body,
My Choice,

(From: Lulashi Hippyshake)

Trusting instincts helps develop autonomy, self-confidence and independence.

When I feel cold...

When I feel bored or restless...

TUNING IN

Draw, Write (or cut Pictures out of a magazine) to show how you listen to what your body needs and how you keep yourself healthy and growing strong.

I might put another layer of clothing on or wear a hat or scarf to keep warm

I might run around or play a game
