(al fondo del texto tienen un recuadro con palabras claves que les pueden servir para entender el texto)

Joe and his sister Bianca are spy kids. 'Let's have an adventure tonight,' said Joe one day. 'Let's go to Professor Spark's house.' Professor Spark was a strange scientist. He lived in a big, spooky house on their street.

That night Joe and Bianca climbed out of the bathroom window. They went to Professor Spark's house and hid behind some trees. There was a light in a window.

They saw lots of people in a room. The people didn't move and they didn't speak. 'That's strange,' said Bianca.

Professor Spark came into the room and stopped next to a man. 'Good evening, Mr President,' he said. 'Tomorrow is your big day!' The President had a blue diamond in his ear. 'Is that the real President?' asked Bianca. 'I don't think it is,' said her brother.

Suddenly, Professor Spark looked out of the window. He saw the children. Bianca and Joe were scared and hurried home.
