SECTION I
(READING COMPREHENSION)

(Q.NO. 1 - 7) Read the following passage from the lesson "The Snake and the Mirror".

I got up, lit a beedi and paced up and down the room. Then another lovely thought struck me. I would marry. I would get married to a woman doctor who had plenty of money and a good medical practice. She had to be fat; for a valid reason. If I made some silly mistake and needed to run away, she should not be able to run after me and catch me!

With such thoughts in my mind I resumed my seat in the chair in front of the table. There were no more sounds from above. Suddenly there came a dull thud as if a rubber tube had fallen to the ground. . . surely nothing to worry about. Even so I thought I would turn around and take a look. No sooner had I turned than a fat snake wriggled over the back of the chair and landed on my shoulder. The snake's landing on me and my turning were simultaneous.

I didn't jump. I didn't tremble. I didn't cry out. There was no time to do any such thing. The snake slithered along my shoulder and coiled around my left arm above the elbow. The hood was spread out and its head was hardly three or four inches from my face!

It would not be correct to say merely that I sat there holding my breath. I was turned to stone. But my mind was very active. The door opened into darkness. The room was surrounded by darkness. In the light of the lamp, I sat there like a stone image in the flesh.

1. The narrator was pacing up and down the room because he was
A. exercising
B. walking

D. there was no time to do these
7. 'I was turned to stone.' This sentence means that the narrator
A. was cold like a stone
B. was motionless
C. was without emotions
D. was changed into a stone

Said the Duck, "As I sat on the rocks,
I have thought over that completely.
And I bought four pairs of worsted socks
Which fit my web feet neatly.

And to keep out the cold I've bought a cloak,
 And everyday a cigar I'll smoke,
 All to follow my own dear true
 Love of a Kangaroo!"
 Said the Kangaroo, "I'm ready!
 All in the moonlight pale;
 But to balance me well, dear Duck, sit steady!
 And quite at the end of my tail!"
 So away they went with a hop and a bound,
 And they hopped the whole world three times round;
 And who so happy – O who,
 As the Duck and the Kangaroo?

8. The Duck thought over

CREATIVE WRITING

(Question 28)

You have read the poem "The Duck and the Kangaroo". In this poem you have come to know of the Duck's desire to go around on a trip along with the Kangaroo.

Based on the poem, write a description of the preparations you made before you went on a trip to an historical place.

Make use of the following points in your description.

- Your interest to visit the historical place.
- Gathering information related to that place.
- The booking of tickets, hotel rooms, etc.
- The items and articles you packed for the journey.

NOTE:- This question is meant for Home Assignment. The student has to take a photograph of the answer and post it on Whatsapp to the teacher or it can be written in a notebook and submitted to the teacher later.
