

ON THE PULSE 3
FINAL ACTIVITY UNIT 3

READING:

1 Read the text and choose a title. Then choose the correct options.

a Disability hasn't stopped him

b A severe disability

Im Dong-Hyun is an amazing athlete from South Korea. He has won three Olympic medals and also holds the world record for archery. Why is he so surprising? Well, Im is legally blind in one eye: this means he can't see things clearly when they are at a distance. For example, he can't distinguish people's faces properly when he is not near them. They become blurred.

Im has never believed that he has a disability, so he hasn't agreed to wear glasses or have an operation to improve his sight. His other senses are more developed to compensate for his sight problems. And he can see bright colours. The archery target is blue, red and yellow. The yellow is at the centre of the target, so Im always aims for the yellow!

Im started to do archery when he was 10 years old and he has never stopped training. His daily routine is tiring. He trains for six or seven hours every day and he also goes to the gym. He often enjoys listening to music, cycling and playing computer games in his relaxing moments.
