I. READING

Questions 1-5: Read the text about Movember and answer the questions that follow.

Moustache + November = Movember!

Every year in November millions of men around the world grow moustaches to raise money for charity and to help people learn about men's health issues such as certain types of cancer and mental health.

A man who wants to participate in the Movember event starts with a clean face on November 1st and then he grows a moustache for the next 30 days. A man who doesn't shave for Movember is called a 'Mo Bro' (short for Moustache Brother!). He registers on the official website, Movember.com, and he asks his family and friends to sponsor him. If you sponsor a Mo Bro, you agree to give him money if he keeps his moustache until November 30th. As well as collecting money for cancer and mental health charities, the idea is that the new moustaches will help to start conversations that help people to learn more about men's health.

Started in Australia in 2003, Movember has attracted more than 3 million participants worldwide to become a popular charity event in 21 countries.
