

According to the vertical line shown on the graph of this relation, the graph does not show a function because the vertical line passes through the two points (,) above the x -axis and (,) below the x -axis.

