

The short-tailed shearwater is Australia's most common seabird with almost 3 million pairs of birds. Cut out the images below and paste them correctly to show the lifecycle of the short-tailed shearwater.

