Rosalinda Velásquez

"My business is like my baby"

MRS. ROSALINDA

Rosalinda Velasquez or "Rosi" is a street vendor. She cooks and sells anticuchos in the street in Lima. Let's learn a little bit more about her.

She wakes up at 7:00am every day and she goes to the market to buy all the ingredients for her anticuchos. She never watches TV in the morning because she has no time.

First, she washes the cookware and mixes all the ingredients needed to make anticuchos. Then, she opens her food stand and cooks anticuchos for all her customers. They love them!

Rosalinda enjoys her job because her employees and customers are like her family.

Street vendors are polite, friendly and charismatic. That's why people always go back to them.

"My business is like my baby," she always says.

EMPLOYEE OF THE MONTH

Felix Soto is a waiter at a restaurant in Iquitos. He was "employee of the month" in June and July. Let's learn a little bit more about him.

He goes to work at 12:00 p.m. He works really hard in the afternoons, evenings and sometimes at night too.

First, he sets the tables and greets customers at the door. Then, he takes their order. After the chef finishes cooking the food the customers ordered, he takes it to each table.

Felix likes his job because his co-workers are very friendly and his boss always tries to make them feel at home in the restaurant.

Waiters and waitresses are quick and organised because they need to place orders correctly.

"Waiters and waitresses are the face of the restaurant," Felix often says.
