A very happy day

I usually wake up before my alarm clock goes off, but today I didn't. I think I was so tired from yesterday. The day before, which was Sunday, was a really happy day for me. It was my birthday, and I thought my dad would take us out for a meal or take me shopping for a present like he usually does.

This year was different though! In the morning, he pretended that he was going to take us to my favorite restaurant for lunch, but he had another plan. We were on our way to the restaurant, but he drove straight past it.

We were all so surprised and confused and thought he'd made a mistake. My dad had kept his plan a secret from everyone, including my mom. To be honest, my mom isn't very good at keeping secrets. About an hour later, we arrived at an amusement park – the one I'd always wanted to go to.

Dad had bought the tickets online, and we had a free pass for everything in the park. It's Halloween this week, so the theme was Halloween Spooktacular. Dad knows I like creepy and scary rides, so he thought this would be a good place to go for a birthday treat.

The first place we went was the Haunted House. You go into the house on a boat, and it's very dark. Strange creatures appear from nowhere and touch you. There are also loud noises which are really scary. After that, we went on many more scary rides. On one ride we all had to dress up as ghosts which was a lot of fun! At the end of the day, we were so tired because we didn't stop all day.

- ___ 41. She is usually asleep when her alarm clock rings.
a. True
b. False
- ___ 42. Her dad promised to take her out to a restaurant for her birthday.
a. True
b. False
- ___ 43. Her dad got the tickets from a friend.
a. True
b. False
- ___ 44. Her dad chose the amusement park this year because of the theme.
a. True
b. False
- ___ 45. The scariest thing in the Haunted House was the boat ride.
a. True
b. False

Read. Match the paragraph to the main idea.
