

Jonathan's Trip to Colombia

I _____ to Colombia last summer. My journey _____ on the Caribbean coast and _____ on the border with Ecuador. Colombia is a _____ country, extremely diverse and full of wonderful _____. I will tell you why. In South Colombia _____ is a city called Pereira; just outside you can _____ an area where you will see the farm Villa Maria - a _____ paradise that _____ a long time to get to-. It is a working coffee farm _____ in the middle of a valley. Coffee and plantain _____ as far as the eye can see. The farm is _____ up of the house and the processing plant. The family _____ has guests at the house for just $_____ a night. This _____ three home-cooked meals a day, a swimming pool, and as much coffee _____ as you can drink. The scene is _____ unbelievable. Bamboo chairs rest on the corners of the Villa, mangos _____ from the trees and parrots and birds fly _____.

A wonderful man _____ Hector who runs the farm is happy to show _____ around the coffee processing plant. By day, the _____ sounds are of the horses coming down the valley _____ carrying food. _____ night, the wildlife comes _____, and depending on the time of the _____ thunderstorms offer a spectacular _____ show. For those who _____ to escape, Villa Maria is the answer.

This is _____ one attraction of many in Colombia. I could _____ pages on the country and not get bored. I _____ next year and I can't wait to return to this beautiful _____. Some of _____ reading may be stimulated to do the _____.