New Normal, New Job! - Félix Soto

During the lockdown, Felix's job changed too. Five months ago, he was a waiter at 'Chifast' restaurant.

He still works there, but now he is a delivery person.

Before, customers ate in the restaurant and he loved his job as a waiter. He always took the food to the customers' tables, but now he delivers food to the customers' homes on his bike. Before the pandemic, he always took the bus to go to the restaurant. But, now he rides his bike to work.

“Things have changed a lot this year, so I had to adapt and change, too.”

He starts work at 11:00am and finishes at 7:00pm. He delivers food all over the city. Felix misses his co-workers and customers, but there are also things he likes about his new job. For example, he loves riding his bike every day. “I have learned a lot.” Felix says, “Things have changed a lot this year, so I had to adapt and change, too.”

Delivery people are organized, quick and punctual. This job is very important in the context of the pandemic. What do you think?
