

- 1- Read the text and complete the charts with nouns (sustantivos) and adjectives (adjetivos). The words are in the text

Symbol	Noun	Adjective
1. 	snow
2. 	rain
3. 		foggy
4. 	cloud

Symbol	Noun	Adjective
5. 		sunny
6. 	wind
7. 		stormy

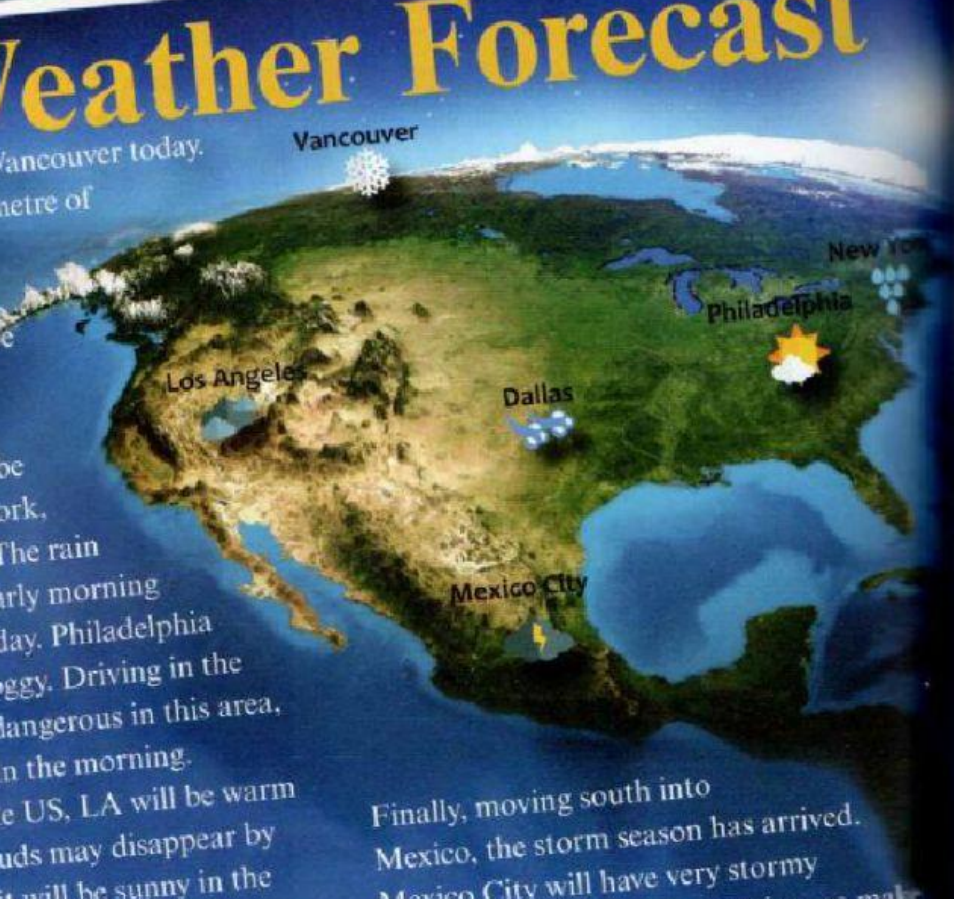

Weather Forecast

It'll be snowy in Vancouver today. There will be a metre of snow in some parts of the city. Temperatures will be around -10.

Moving south, temperatures will be warmer in New York, but it'll be rainy. The rain will start in the early morning and carry on all day. Philadelphia will be dry but foggy. Driving in the fog can be very dangerous in this area, especially early in the morning.

Staying in the US, LA will be warm but cloudy. Clouds may disappear by lunchtime and it will be sunny in the afternoon. So enjoy the sun! In Texas, there are strong winds now and the windy weather will be especially bad in the evening in Dallas.

Finally, moving south into Mexico, the storm season has arrived. Mexico City will have very stormy weather, especially in the evening, so make sure you take an umbrella if you go out in the afternoon.

2- Read the sentences and complete with words from exercise nº1 (nouns and adjectives)

1. He can't see because it's _____.	2. He's scared because it's _____.	3. He can't walk the dog because it's _____.
4. He's not enjoying the beach because it's _____.	5. He's lost his cap because it's _____.	6. His barbecue isn't a success because it's _____.	7. His ice cream is melting because it's _____.

3- Listen to track nº36 and tick (✓) information you hear about the weather in the different cities.

Rome
Madrid
London
Berlin
Paris
Moscow

Guess What!
The four seasons are spring, summer, autumn (fall) and winter.

4- Read the sentences and look at the symbols. Then complete with adjectives from exercise nº1

1.  We had _____ weather on the ferry. The boat rocked all night!
2.  People think London is always _____, but it's not true.
3.  It's _____ today, so it's not a good day to go to the beach.
4.  It's a _____ day. Let's take photos of the animals at the zoo.
5.  The weather forecast said it will be _____ in the morning and dry in the afternoon.
6.  Close the windows! It's a _____ day today.
7.  We have always got _____ weather where I live. Perfect weather to make a snowman!

Brian wishes you good luck!

