I. Reading Comprehension: read and answer the questions.

Koalas are mammals that live in the forest in Australia. It is not correct to call them Koala bears because they are not bears. They do have soft thick fur and ears with long white hairs on the tips. Koalas sleep during the day and eat at night. Koalas eat leaves and bark from different trees, but eucalyptus leaves are their favorite. Because koalas eat so many eucalyptus leaves, they often smell like certain kinds of cough drop. Female koalas have a pouch where a baby koala lives. A baby koala is called joey.
