VALLEY HIGH SCHOOL

VALLEY HIGH GOES JOB SHADOWING!

In June some of our students had the opportunity to do a job shadow, working next to an adult professional for a day. Two students tell us about their experiences.

Jade Smith, Year 9

I love cooking in my free time so I went to a restaurant for my job shadow. I worked with the head chef, Mr Perry. Before the job shadow, I didn't really know what a chef did. For example, Mr Perry didn't only prepare food, he also wrote a new menu, spoke to the restaurant director, explained the new menu to the waiters, and lots of other things. If he didn't have time to tell them all that I saw that professional chefs need to be creative. But they also need to work fast and stay calm when the restaurant is busy. It was a great experience. Now I know that I want to do this when I leave school.

Mandy Swan, Year 9

I always wanted to be a doctor, so I decided to do the job shadow at a hospital. They didn't let me watch a doctor, but I was with a nurse for the day (She was brilliant). There were some really difficult moments, but the nurses didn't stop for a second. They were all very kind and cheerful. I didn't find it easy. Doctors and nurses need to be calm and strong, mentally and physically. Now I think it isn't the right job for me. So, in the end, the job shadow really helped me.
