A. Kuskovo is first mentioned in documents dating from the beginning of the sixteenth century. It was a small boyar estate only about seven kilometers from Moscow. The land was not good for cultivation, and was thus of little economic significance. The estate was however an ideal hunting ground. In 1715 the Kuskovo estate was bought by Count Boris Sheremetev.

B. Amazingly, there are an estimated 1,000 spiders for every square meter. There are approximately 25 million tons of spiders in the world and 45,000 different species of them. So, they're the top predator because that's a lot of spiders eating a lot of food! Humans, by comparison, consume about 400 million tons of meat and fish, according to the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations.

C. There was snow on the ground recently in 49 of the 50 states! Can anyone guess which state didn't have it? It was Florida. Even Hawaii had seven inches of snow atop an inactive volcano called Mauna Kea! Even though this is really rare, it has happened before. Meteorologists say it happened on February 10, 2010. That time it was Hawaii that didn't have snow.

D. The citizens of France voted for a new leader over the weekend and the winner is ... Emmanuel Macron. He's France's youngest president ever at just 39 years old. He's also never been elected to any kind of political office before. In fact, he started his own political party, EnMarche, about a year ago. He did, however, serve as France's Economy Minister.

E. Researchers in Michigan secretly observed nearly 3,800 people at restrooms to see if people washed their hands properly. The answer was: NO. 10% didn't even pretend to wash their hands. 23% washed ... but didn't actually use any soap. The rest used soap but most of them not for long enough. Only 5% washed their hands with soap for 15 seconds or more.

Задание 19. (in class)

Imagine that you are preparing a project with your friend. You have found some interesting material or the presentation and you want to read this text to your friend.

You have 1.5 minutes to read the text silently, then be ready to read it out aloud.

You will not have more than 1.5 minutes to read it.

Champagne was not invented in France. It may come as surprise – even an outrage – to them but champagne is an English invention. As anyone who has made their own ginger beer knows, fermentation naturally produces bubbles. The problem has always been controlling it. The English developed a taste for fizzy wine in the sixteenth century, importing barrels of green, flat wine from Champagne and adding sugar and molasses to start it fermenting. They also developed the strong coal-fired glass bottles and corks to contain it.

A legal loophole uniquely allows Americans to call their sparkling wines champagne. The Treaty of Madrid decreed that only the Champagne region may use that name. This was reaffirmed by the Treaty of Versailles but the US signed a separate peace agreement with Germany. When prohibition was lifted, American wine-merchants took advantage of this loophole, freely selling their own Champagne, much to the annoyance of the French.
