

Animals Live in Groups for Protection

Drag each boxed description and drop it in the place with the corresponding list of animals.

Both parents, mom and dad, take turns taking care of their chicks.	Mommy is responsible of taking care of the young.	These animals live in herds of hundreds or thousands of members.	Daddy is responsible of taking care of the young.	These animals live together in large families called clans.

Meerkats Mongoose Prairie Dogs Elephants Lions Hyenas Wolves Giraffes Gorillas	Kendo Penguin Emperor Penguin	Impala Gazelle Elk Caribou Zebras Buffalos Wildebeest	Gizzly Bear Leopard Cobra Alligator Ducks Kangaroo Chimpanzee	Sea Horse Owl Monkey Rheas