

The Democrats are ideologically based in social liberalism.

Social liberalism is about individual rights and equality.

All the members of the Democratic Party share the exact same beliefs.

The Democrats want a strong government and to reduce poverty.