Short Answer: Answer each of the below questions in detail and show your specific knowledge of the story.

During the assembly in chapter 5, the boys discuss various rules have been broken. What are three different and specific rules that were established at past assemblies that Ralph, the chief, insists at this assembly, must now be followed? These are rules that help keep everyone safe, healthy, and the island clean. (not keeping the fire lit, that has been discussed a lot already)

When the boys all run away from the assembly in chapter 5, why doesn't Ralph blow the conch to bring them back?

We have discussed how certain characters and objects are symbolic, meaning they stand for more than their practical use. Explain w two specific examples how Jack and Ralph each symbolize a specific type of government. This is clearly based on William Golding's World War II experience.
